Foreword

In presenting this 1952-1953 edition of "THE BULLDOG," we have endeavored to give you an everlasting picture of the life and activities of Chapel Hill High School.

We hope that you will enjoy seeing these scenes and portraits as much as we have enjoyed presenting them to you. Whatever the years may bring, the memory of this school year will be forever kept alive as you turn through the pages of this yearbook.

Dedication

In appreciation of the opportunity which has been ours, we the annual staff gratefully dedicate this 1952-1953 Bulldog to those who have made it possible, Mr. W. C. Rogers and our parents. They have made our school a better place in which to work and learn, and whose interest in our youth has made our school days happy ones to remember.

Superintendent's Message

As we muse and reminisce through the pages of this book, now in the years to come, may we never forget that the American school is the most important channel by which we can pass on the American heritage. Our democratic convictions are the product of our upbringing by fathers, mothers, teachers, and fellow students who believe in the dignity and freedom and rights of man; who by word and example taught us, the practice of dignity, the use of freedom, the exercise of rights without infringement of companions equal status.

W. C. Rogers

W. C. Rogers, Superintendent

Principal's Message

It is a great pleasure for me to express my appreciation to the students and faculty members of the Chapel Hill School for your friendship and cooperation in making the school term of 1952 and 1953 a pleasant and successful year. My greatest wish is that this school program has provided training and guidance in such ways that you will be better able to meet with the problems of your life and solve them to the extent that your happiness and success will be promoted. I trust that your characters are more pure, your minds are more alert, and you are more mentally and physically fit by having attended this Chapel Hill School.

May I wish for each teacher and each student of Chapel Hill School a continuance of happiness and success in all your endeavors of life.

Your friend,
